CHS STUDENTS SELECTED AS MYLEAD AMBASSADORS

Eight exceptional students have been selected as this year's MYLead Ambassadors for Charlotte High School. They were nominated by their teachers and are considered the top leaders of their class. The top candidate, Lauren Crossman, is the daughter of Brent and Julie Crossman. Lauren received a full scholarship to the conference from MYLead. With the generous full scholarship from the General Federation Women's Club in Charlotte, Lauren Anderson, daughter of Rob and Karen Anderson, will serve as an ambassador as well. Earning a scholarship from Charlotte High School, Lamont Aldridge, son of Eric Aldridge and Sarah Berryhill; Alyssa Chestnut, daughter of Wesley Chestnut and Heather Linn; Alyvia Bruce, granddaughter of Randall and Kim Bruce; Lauren Wietzke, daughter of Rich and Tracy Wietzke; Charles Hazel, son of Andy and Kelley Hazel; and Sophie Lupini, daughter of Lisa and Doug Lupini, were also selected as top sophomore leaders. These eight students have plans to attend the Youth Leadership Conference this May or June at Michigan State University. Congratulations to all eight of these highly qualified young people!

MYLead (Michigan Youth Leadership) is a non-profit organization whose purpose is to develop leadership potential in the youth of Michigan. The goal is for students to take these actions back to their schools and continue to make a difference while teaching others how to do the same. Specific skills to be taught at the conference are leadership skill enhancement, critical thinking development, creative problem-solving, and positive peer interaction. What a great opportunity for our ambassadors of Charlotte High School! For more information about MYLead go to www.mylead.org.
