CHS Students Continue to Show Their Oriole PRIDE

Over the last few weeks, Charlotte High School has celebrated students who have shown Oriole PRIDE in their work around the school. Whether it is showing Purpose, Respect, Integrity, Dedication, or Excellence, many students have gone the extra mile to demonstrate their PRIDE. The following students won the most recent weekly drawings, and received the identified prizes thanks to the generous donations of our community partners.

Serenity Brooks showed respect and won passes to the Charlotte Aquatic Center and an Oriole Pride lanyard. Alyvia Bruce showed integrity, dedication, and excellence and won passes to the Charlotte Aquatic Center and an Oriole Pride lanyard. Haven Hiatt showed excellence and won passes to the Charlotte Aquatic Center and an Oriole Pride lanyard. Emma Luukkonen showed integrity and won passes to the Charlotte Aquatic Center and an Oriole Pride lanyard. Bryce Johnson showed respect and won a Nike dry fit shirt, donated by the Charlotte Athletic Boosters. Steven Wang showed integrity and won passes to the Charlotte Aquatic Center and an Oriole Pride lanyard. Kalib Bowen showed integrity and won an athletic booster prize pack, donated by the Charlotte Optimist Club. Alyssa Chestnut showed purpose, respect, integrity, dedication, and excellence and won a Charlotte Athletic Booster prize pack, donated by the Charlotte Optimist Club. Stephen Turner showed respect and excellence and won a Nike windbreaker, donated by the Charlotte Athletic Boosters, and an Oriole foam finger, donated by CHS student council.

Congratulations students and Go Orioles!
