Weymouth Preschools Go to Woldumar

Charlotte Public Schools Weymouth Child Development Center's 3, 4 and 5 year old preschool classrooms attended a field trip to Woldumar Nature Center on Tuesday to learn more about nature, local animals, and their habitats. Weymouth Child Development Center believes in providing hands on experiences for their children in order to help them learn concepts in a more concrete way. At the Woldumar Nature Center they were able to go on a walk through the woods, look for animal homes, footprints, and listen for animal sounds. By seeing and experiencing these things first hand, our students then can relate more to them when discussing them in the classrooms and doing other activities relating to nature.
