RYAN GUIMONT JOINS CHARLOTTE HIGH SCHOOL

Ryan Guimont has joined the Charlotte High School staff this year, and he teaches a variety of special education courses, including foods, math, life skills, and health. Ryan spent the last seven years teaching in Baltimore, Maryland, but the move to Charlotte allowed him to move back home to Michigan. Ryan is a graduate of Michigan State University, and he is a huge sports fan, especially basketball, football, and baseball. So far, Ryan has enjoyed working with his students and the staff, and he likes the positive environment at CHS. Seeing students truly making progress and becoming more independent as they work their way through high school is one of the main reasons he became a teacher, and the value he places on his students success is evident every day. Welcome Mr. Guimont! Go Orioles!
