

In Session with the “Oriole” Superintendent

By Mark D. Rosekrans, Superintendent of Charlotte Public Schools

Our Kids, Our Community, Our Future

After two years of planning and discussions, Charlotte Public Schools’ bond proposal goes to the voters in just a few days; Tuesday, November 6, 2018.

We sincerely appreciate and value all interactions, questions, presentations and communications we have shared with our parents and community members which we believe have led to a clear understanding of the scope of our proposal and the minimal investment required.

Your vote on Tuesday, November 6, is very important for our students, teachers, staff and community.

If you have not already done so, please visit our website’s home page at charlottenet.org and click on the Bond 2018 tab. There you will find the information necessary to enable you to make an informed choice when casting your vote.

We’re confident that we have effectively met our due diligence and communication responsibilities through steering committee meetings, community engagement forums, meetings and presentations throughout the community, creating and distributing informational brochures and Board of Education meetings.

Our November 6 proposal is asking area residents to support a .9 mill increase which represents an additional investment of $3.75 per month ($45.00 per year) based on a home with a market value of $100,000.

If approved, the proposal will deliver $29.85 million dollars in improvements. This will touch every building and every department of the district and provide significant benefits to our students, teachers, staff, and community, for years to come.

This bond is all about Our Kids, Our Community and Our Future.

Thank you for exercising your right to vote on Tuesday, November 6!

Go Orioles! Oriole Pride!!
