Limited Purpose Flexible Spending Accounts
Enrollment Information

Flexible Spending Accounts

Flexible Spending Accounts can help you stretch your health care and dependent care budget while reducing your taxable income. That's because the accounts let you use before-tax dollars to pay eligible expenses. The money in your health care reimbursement account may be used to pay eligible health care expenses that are not already covered by your health care plans. You may choose to participate in any of the following accounts offered by your employer.

✪ Limited Purpose Reimbursement Account

The Limited Purpose Reimbursement Account is designed for use with a Health Savings Account (H.S.A.) plan that is not eligible to be offered with a traditional Flexible Spending Account. The account will reimburse any eligible dental or vision care out-of-pocket expenses not covered under your dental or vision plan.

✪ Dependent Care Reimbursement Account

The Dependent Care Reimbursement Account is designed to pay for eligible expenses associated with caring for your eligible dependents.

How the Accounts Work

✪ You Decide How Much to Contribute: When you enroll you must indicate how much money you want to contribute to each account during the Flexible Spending Account Plan Year.

✪ Contributions Are Deducted on a Before-Tax Basis: If you choose to participate, your contributions will automatically be withheld from your paycheck before taxes have been taken out in equal installments throughout the year.

✪ You Pay Your Expenses Up Front: Throughout the year, whenever you incur an eligible health care or dependent care expense, you will pay the expense as you normally would. Be sure to save the itemized statement, Explanation of Benefits or receipt so you can file a claim for reimbursement to Varipro.

✪ How to File A Claim for Reimbursement: You will need to complete a Flexible Spending Account Reimbursement Request Form and send it, along with an itemized billing/receipt or an Explanation of Benefits, to Varipro. If the expense is eligible for reimbursement, you will receive a check or direct deposit (if you have completed the Direct Deposit form) for the full amount (or the amount remaining in your account, whichever is less). Flexible Spending Account Reimbursement Request Forms are available from your Human Resources Department or Varipro.

Note: If you are already enrolled in the Direct Deposit program, you do not need to complete the Direct Deposit forms again unless you are making changes to the banking information already on file with Varipro.

- ✪ You Can Check the Status of Your Account Online: Varipro offers 24/7 online access to your account. You can check your account balance, print forms, check on a reimbursement request, calculate your savings if you participate in the Flexible Spending program and many more options. You will receive additional information in the mail regarding this feature once your enrollment has been received and processed.
- ✪ You Save Money on Taxes: Because your account contributions are made on a before-tax basis, you not only lower your taxable income immediately and pay less payroll taxes now, depending on your tax situation you may owe less money in taxes at the end of the year.
- ✪ Maximum Contributions: You can contribute up to $2,500 per Plan Year to the Limited Purpose Reimbursement Plan and $5,000 per Taxable Year (i.e. Calendar Year) to the dependent care account. (If you are married but file separate tax returns, the most you can contribute to the dependent care account is $2,500 per Taxable Year (i.e. Calendar Year.)
- ✪ Use It or Lose It: It is important that you estimate your eligible expenses carefully before deciding how much to contribute to a reimbursement account. In exchange for the substantial tax advantages associated with reimbursement accounts, the IRS requires that any money left over in your account at the end of the plan year be forfeited.

Eligible Over-the-Counter Medication Expenses

The Health Care Reform law passed on March 23, 2010 affects all employer sponsored Flexible Spending Accounts. As a result, Flexible Spending Accounts are not able to reimburse over the counter (OTC) medicines or drugs (other than insulin) without a doctor's prescription after December 31, 2010.

Dependent Care Account Eligible Expenses

The money in your dependent care reimbursement account may be used to pay eligible expenses associated with caring for your eligible dependents. Examples include the cost of day-care centers, after-school care, summer day camps, and senior centers. Refer to http://www.irs.gov/publications/p502/ar02.html#en_US_publink1000178885 for a complete list.

The caregiver can be a relative of yours, as long as he or she is not also one of your dependents for tax purposes. You are required by law to provide your caregiver's Federal Tax ID number or Social Security number. Your caregiver does not have to be licensed, but must claim your payments as income.

Your eligible dependents include your children under age 13, as well as any disabled spouse, parent, or child age 13 or over whom:

- ✪ Is physically or mentally incapable of caring for himself or herself
- ✪ Spends at least eight hours per day in your home, and
- ✪ Is listed as a dependent on your federal income tax return.

To be eligible for reimbursement, your dependent care expenses must be:

- ✪ Necessary in order for you and your spouse to work or seek work
- ✪ Provided by someone other than your spouse or a dependent
- ✪ Provided by someone with a taxpayer identification or Social Security number

If your day care provider does not have a standard receipt with all the required information please contact Varipro for a day care form.

The Federal Income Tax Credit

The federal income tax credit allows you to subtract a percentage of your dependent care expenses from the federal taxes you owe. The percentage depends on your taxable household income.

IRS rules state you cannot claim the same expenses under both the dependent care account and the federal tax credit. As a result, you will have to decide which one is more advantageous to you.

How Much Can I Save?

How much money can you save? That depends on a number of factors, including your income, marital status, and number of dependents. By calculating your eligible expenses in advance and having the amount automatically deducted from your paycheck, your tax base is reduced. Depending on where you live, you may be able to save money on state and local taxes as well. Please consult your tax planner or financial advisor for additional details regarding how participating in the flexible spending program can save you money.

Limited Purpose FSA Reimbursement Account Worksheet

How much should you contribute to the Limited Purpose FSA Reimbursement Account? That depends on how much you expect to spend on eligible dental and vision care expenses for you and your dependent(s) in the coming plan year. These expenses are sometimes not covered or only partially covered by dental and vision insurance plans. For a list of dental and vision eligible expenses, visit the IRS website at <http://www.irs.gov/publications/p502/index.html>.

Type of Expense	How Much You Expect to Spend
Dental and Vision Expenses
Dental (including but not limited to Crowns, Fillings, Orthodontics)	$ _____
Vision (including but not limited to Contacts, Glasses, Lasik Surgery)	$ _____
Total Estimated Expenses (add up all of your estimated costs)	$ _____

This is the amount that you should consider contributing to your Limited Purpose Reimbursement account for the coming year.

(Remember, the maximum you can contribute is $2,500 per Plan Year)

Dependent Care Reimbursement Account Worksheet

To help you decide if a dependent care reimbursement account is right for you, use the provided easy-to-follow worksheet to help estimate your expenses.

Type of Expense	How Much You Expect to Spend

At a day care center (must comply with state and local laws)	$ _____
Provided by an individual	$ _____
At a day camp (but not overnight camp)	$ _____
Day Care expenses for elderly or incapacitated relatives
At a day care center (must comply with state and local laws)	$ _____
Provided by an individual	$ _____
Education-related expenses
After-school care for children under age 13	$ _____
Pre-school and Pre-kindergarten tuition and lunch (provided these costs cannot be separated from the cost of the child's care)	$ _____

Total Estimated Expenses

(add up all of your estimated costs)

This is the amount you should contribute to your dependent care reimbursement account for the year. (In most cases, the maximum you can contribute is $5,000 per Taxable Year (i.e. Calendar Year).

If you are married and you and your spouse file separate income tax returns, the maximum you can contribute is $2,500 per Taxable Year (i.e. Calendar Year) $ _____

Can I Change My Coverage During the Year?

The benefit choices that you are making now will remain in effect until the last day of the plan year, unless you experience a qualified change in family status. If you have a qualified change in family status, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) allows you to change your coverage during the plan year to meet your changing needs.

Qualified family status changes include:

- ✦ Change in Legal Marital Status - your marriage, divorce, or legal separation
- ✦ Change in Dependents - the birth, death, or adoption of a child
- ✦ Change in Employment - termination, retirement, change in hours with you or spouse, layoff
- ✦ Change in Residence or Worksite – of employee or spouse
- ✦ Change in Dependent Status – dependent starts or stops meeting requirements to be eligible for any coverage under this plan

Change in Dependent Care Only:

- ✦ Change in Cost – change in cost to provide dependent care
- ✦ Change in Coverage – addition or elimination of benefits options
- ✦ Change Under Another Plan - change in dependent care benefits under another employer's plan

If you experience such a change and would like to change your coverage, you must notify your Human Resource Department within 30 days of the qualified change in family status. Any change you make must be consistent with your change in family status. For example, if you have a baby during the year, you can choose to begin participating in the dependent care reimbursement account. You cannot decide to stop participating in the health care reimbursement account.

Important Notice About Over-the-Counter (OTC) Medications

OTC medications require a doctor's prescription to be eligible for FSA/HSA reimbursement. For that reason, OTC medications cannot be purchased using the mySourceCard® unless dispensed by a pharmacy the same as a standard prescription (with an Rx number). If a manual claim is submitted for purchase of an OTC medication, both a copy of the prescription and the purchase receipt must be included to receive reimbursement.

Non-medicated OTC products (diabetes test strips, saline solution, bandages, etc.) do not require a prescription. You can use either the mySourceCard® to purchase these items or submit the purchase receipt for reimbursement

Under PPACA (health reform law), the Maximum Annual Election is capped at $2,550 per employee.
